Overview

- Progressive Policing & Community Engagement Bureau
- Transit Ambassador and Crisis Intervention Specialist Outreach Program
- Resources and Partnerships
- Other roles at the Police Department
- Community Oriented Policing Unit – Community Engagement Team

The BART Police Department

- In 2020, the BART Police Department created the Progressive Policing and Community Engagement Bureau.
- The Department recognized the need to reimagine policing and the services it provides, the bureau utilizes a model that de-emphasizes the use of sworn personnel to respond to homelessness, behavioral health and substance use, among other issues that do not need an armed police response.
- BART was the first agency to have POST-certified instructors for Fair and Impartial Policing training, partnered with the Center for Policing Equity, and created Crisis Intervention Training and Community Outreach Coordinator positions, to name a few.
- The Progressive Policing and Community Engagement Bureau includes the Community Ambassador Unit, Crisis Intervention Division, and Community-Oriented Policing Division.

BART Police: Progressive Policing & Community Engagement Bureau

BART Police recognizes that not every crisis on BART needs to be addressed by a sworn police officer.

The Bureau of Progressive Policing and Community Engagement’s mission is to engage the BART Police Department in leading transparent, equitable, and innovative policing practices to improve public safety across the diverse communities in which we serve.

We are committed to rebuilding trust and nurturing relationships between our communities and law enforcement through a culture of accountability, responsibility, and collaboration.

Community Engagement Team/Program/Unit

The BART Police Department's community-oriented policing program is a proactive approach to policing that involves problem identification and resolution and creating partnerships between the members of the police department and the communities they serve.

Community-oriented policing is a philosophy that promotes organizational strategies, which support the systematic use of partnerships and problem-solving techniques, to pro-actively address the immediate conditions that give rise to public safety issues such as crime, social disorder, and fear of crime.

Community oriented policing goes beyond traditional policing to build a cooperative and mutually beneficial relationship between the police and the community by:

- Ensuring active involvement on the part of problem-solving officers and neighborhood services coordinators in the affairs of the community.
- Encourages active citizen involvement in policing efforts.
- Focusing on issues of ongoing public concern.
- Providing continuity of service to the community.

Community Engagement Team

The Community-Oriented Policing Division consists of two Community Service Officers.

Their roles include:

- Creating partnerships with community-based organizations that provide goods and services to the public
- Providing leadership and mentoring to school students and youth organizations
- Coordinating department charitable programs, such as holiday food and toy drives
- Serving as a liaison to BART citizen advisory committees, outside community groups and governmental working groups
